Course Description

Classroom English aims to advance English language skills in the context of teaching and practicing English with young learners. Foundational aspects will be covered, such as asking questions and giving directions, as well as more specific aspects of using classroom language in relation to teaching skills, pronunciation, and more. The textbook "English for Primary Teachers" will be used as a basis for the course with extra activities and topics included. There will be opportunities to use teaching resources, create activities, and give teaching demonstrations to put ideas into practice. Students will be supported throughout with lectures, presentations, demonstrations, and feedback from the teacher.

Materials

The textbook "English for Primary Teachers" will be used as a basis for part of the course. This will be provided in digital form for participants to view and print. All other materials and worksheets will also be provided during lessons.

Assignments

There will be some small homework assignments such as reading, completing worksheets, and preparing for demonstrations.

Assessment

Successful completion of the course depends on regular attendance, homework assignments, and student teaching demonstrations.
